Administrative/biographical history

Severn Road Elementary School was established by Cardiff School Board in 1882. Older pupils (ages 11-15) were re-formed as a Secondary Modern (later High) School in 1950 and younger children as Severn Road Junior School. In September 1965 boys aged 12-15 were transferred from Radnor County Secondary Modern School to Severn Road but no further children were received and the school closed in 1966. Pupils were transferred to Fitzalan High School.

Archival history

Reorganisation of primary and secondary school education in Cardiff in the 1960s appears to have led to the dispersal of some of the school records.

Immediate source of acquisition

The first log-book and possibly the book of verse appear to have been transferred to the Glamorgan Record Office either by Cardiff County Borough Council before 1974 or South Glamorgan County Council some time between 1974 and 1990. The second log-book was transferred directly to the Glamorgan Record Office by Fitzalan High School in May 2004.
