Administrative/Biographical history

Ninian Park Elementary School was established in 1900 as Virgil Street Elementary School but the name was changed to Ninian Park in 1911. Many of the pupils of Grangetown Elementary School were transferred to Virgil Street/Ninian Park from about 1900 to reduce the excessive school numbers at Grangetown. In 1950 the schools were reformed as Secondary Modern Schools for older pupils (ages 11-15), until they themselves were amalgamated with other schools during the introduction of comprehensive education in the 1960s to form Fitzalan High School in 1968. The log-books were transferred along with older pupils to Fitzalan High School during the reorganisation of primary and secondary education in Cardiff at that time and were deposited in the Glamorgan Record Office in May 2004. The admissions registers were received July 2003 with the records of Grangetown Elementary and Junior School (reference EC41) and were apparently transferred with younger pupils (ages 5-11) to Grangetown Junior School in 1950 when Ninian Park Boys and Ninian Park Girls were reformed as Secondary Modern Schools.
