Introduction.

Administrative History:

From the later nineteenth century down to 1957 (1962 in the case of Aberystwyth Borough and R.D.C.) responsibility for water provision in Cardiganshire, as elsewhere, lay in the hands of borough and rural district councils or sanitary authorities.

The South Cardiganshire Water Board was constituted by an Order of 12 March 1956 made by the Minister of Housing and Local Government, in exercise of his powers under section 9 of the Water Act 1945, and came into operation on 29 March of the same year. The day of transfer of the constituent authorities to the board was 1 April 1957.

The Cardiganshire Water Board was constituted by an Order (No. 270) made on 9 January 1962 by the Minister, as above. The Order came into operation on 14 February 1962; the appointed day of transfer was 1 April 1962 but the actual hand-over took place on 1 October 1962. The water functions of seven constituent authorities were transferred together with those of Aberystwyth Borough and R.D.C.

In 1974 the Welsh Water Authority took over the Cardiganshire Water Board.

Arrangement of Records:

The major problem with the pre-Water Boards material is that more than one file reference exists. This doubtless reflects efforts to bring files from diverse sources into one system, following the creation of the South Cardiganshire or Cardiganshire Water Board. For authorities other than water boards the arrangement adopted is alphabetical, by authority, and chronological within these authorities. With so much of the original provenance lost and the addition of later references an accurate reconstruction of the original filing system would have posed insoluble problems. As far as the South Cardiganshire and Cardiganshire Water Boards are concerned the two main divisions are those of the Clerk/Treasurer and Engineer's departments. An attempt has been made within these broad categories to retrieve large tracts of the filing system (which is often quite possible). The order on the whole, however, remains problematic. In every case where there is more than one file reference all are given in the apparent order of their allocation. The word 'Contract' has been standardised throughout to (C). The files themselves consist largely of correspondence and working papers, often with plans. A brief indication of subject matter is given only when there is no title or that title is not sufficiently explanatory.

For related material in the Cardiganshire Record Office see A/SWA/1/1-3 and SRD/2/167.
